On February 22, 2013, Mike Cerino CEO of DeCozen CJDR announced plans to aid the Verona and Caldwell-West Caldwell school systems.

Beginning on March 1, 2013 and running through May 1, 2013 when a resident from either Caldwell-West Caldwell or Verona buys a new or pre-owned vehicle, DeCozen CJDR will donate $200.00 to the respective school system Foundations. Mike Cerino said " I think this is a great way for our company to give back something to the communities that have supported us for all of these years." Here is the opportunity for the residents of these communities to help supply their community schools with the materiel and funding they need to maintain and grow the already fine school districts that are an integral part of the community. This is the first such program known to encompass such a far-reaching and sustainable level of support for community schools in the area.

DeCozen CJDR has been serving the automotive needs of the West Essex communities for over 87 years. They are located at 225 Bloomfield Ave, Verona 07044. Call 877-554-4129.

CEO Mike Cerino is the current President of the Verona Chamber of Commerce.

Present for the announcement were: L to R:
Mary Ann Campion, President of the Caldwell-West Caldwell Education Foundation.
James Heinegg, Superintendent of the Caldwell-West Caldwell School System.
Mike Cerino, CEO of De Cozen Chrysler Jeep Dodge Ram.
Steve Forte, Superintendent of the Verona Schools System.
Doug Smith, President of the Verona Foundation of Educational Excellence.
