7 February 2014

On Thursday, February 6, Verona High School's literary magazine, Avant-Garde, hosted its first open-mic night. Students signed up to perform their original poetry and music, as well as read or perform the work of others. Approximately 20 students participated, and the audience was very impressed with the student performances. Congratulations to the staff members who planned the event and to all the performers who did so well. We look forward to making this an annual event.

Thank you,
Marie Meyer
Advisor, Avant-Garde
