
Marissa Manley of Verona High was recently awarded with the 2013 Best Teammate Award for the Super Essex Conference at the Yogi Berra Museum & Learning Center. Manley was one of 37 student-athletes from a SEC high school who were honored for their selflessness and promoting team unity at an awards banquet on May 21. Presenting her award are Scott Brunner (l.), former New York Giants quarterback and Kevin Cummings, president and CEO of Investors Bank, a major supporter of the Museum's character education programs.
